

An exhibition titled WWI in young artists' mind's eye opened at the State Central Museum of Modern History of Russia in Moscow, on 30 October 2014, featuring the works of pupils and students attending Russian schools and faculties of art. Children from the Serbian Diaspora in Moscow gave their performance by singing There, far away, and reciting verses of the Ode to a Blue Sea Tomb by M. Bojic at the official opening ceremony. S. Pavlovic greeted those present on behalf of the Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Moscow.
