

The OSCE Chairperson-in-Office, Serbian Foreign Minister Ivica Dačić today paid his respects to the victims of the terrorist attacks in Paris, at a unity rally in Paris upon the invitation of French President Francois Hollande.

Together with other world leaders, Dačić reiterated his condemnation of the shootings, and his condolences to the families of those killed.

"Today we stand united in solidarity, both to mourn, and to express our outrage at these attacks. Terrorism in all its forms and manifestations can never be tolerated or justified. An attack on free speech is an attack against society as a whole," he said before the event.

Photo by:REUTERS/Eric Gaillard