

The State Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Dr. Snezana Jankovic, had talks today with the OSCE High Commissioner on National Minorities, Astrid Thors.

The talks focused on the status of national minorities in Serbia, and status of the Serbian minority in the neighbouring countries.

Astrid Thors will be on a visit to Serbia until 31 January, and according to the arrangements, she is also going to visit the south and east of Serbia.

This has been the second visit of Astrid Thors to Serbia since the beginning of her mandate in August 2013.
