The Government of the Republic of Serbia announced at today's session that 21st, 22nd and 23rd May 2014 would be days of national mourning for the death and suffering of a large number of its citizens affected by floods.