

Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov extended condolences to the First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia Ivica Dacic following the tragic death of our nationals:

“We are deeply saddened by the news of the tragic death of six Serbian nationals on the construction site in Jamalo-Nenets District.

On behalf of the Russian leadership and my own, I offer you deepest condolences.

Please convey our sincere support to the bereaved relatives and families at this difficult hour for them.”
