

First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia Ivica Dacic addressed a message of condolences to the bereaved family, following the death of Zoran Petrovic Pirocanac.

“Serbian journalism has lost a hardworking and reliable chronicler, a fierce critic of the developments in our country, highly knowledgeable of geopolitical trends worldwide.

Pirocanac belonged to rare journalists to whom the interest of Serbia came before personal and daily political interests.

He mastered the craft of journalism on major events at home and abroad”, says the message of condolences from Serbian Foreign Minister Ivica Dacic.
