

Athens, March 2012 - In cooperation with the Serbian Film Centre and the Greek Film Library, the Athens Embassy sponsored, on 8-14 March 2012, a Festival "First Serbian Contemporary Film Week" where 13 feature and two documentary films were screened. Eminent Serbian directors and actors attended the screening of their movies, and Director Emir Kusturica welcomed the movie fans at the opening via a video link. In parallel with this event, a roundtable "Balkan filmmaking: prospects, cooperation and co-production" was also held. Due to its enormous success, the Festival, as agreed, will become a traditional event.
