

The National Theatre from Subotica held a guest performance at the Croatian National Theatre Osijek on 21 September with its production of the play "The Miracle in Poskokova Draga" by Croatian playwright Ante Tomic.

Theatre directors from the Republic of Serbia and the Republic of Croatia Ljubica Ristovski and Bozidar Snajder pointed to the good cooperation between the two theatre companies in the past thirteen years.

It was announced that the Croatian National Theatre Osijek will hold a guest performance in Subotica with its play "Hotel free trade" in November. It was also underlined that the cooperation with the National Theatre from Subotica opened the doors to further cooperation with the Serbian National Theatre in Novi Sad, Studio 212 and the National Theatre in Belgrade.
