

Ambassador of the Republic of Serbia to Mexico H.E. Goran Mesic opened an exhibition of artwork by Serbian artists and a contemporary Serbian film cycle at a renowned venue in the former Santa Cruz de Tlatelolco Monastery. The seventieth anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between Serbia and Mexico was marked on this occasion, in the presence of high-level guests from Mexico and representatives from the diplomatic corps.

State Secretary for Culture Mr. Jaime Marques noted that the dialogue with Serbia had been strengthened following the recent exchange of visits by the heads of state, whereas Ambassador Mesic expressed his expectation that the relations with Mexico would continue to develop, highlighting the existing good cooperation, both bilateral and multilateral.
