

In the context of their study visit to the Portuguese Republic, a group of several academics and 65 undergraduate students attending the Novi Sad University School of Economics from Subotica visited the Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Lisbon.

On the occasion, Ambassador Oliver Antic delivered a lecture on the relationship between economics and law, economic relations between Serbia and the Portuguese Republic and the two countries' bilateral and diplomatic relations.