

Writer and artist, university professor Mileta Prodanovic visited Ukraine on 4 and 5 June 2013, where his book "Ultramarine" was launched in Kiev and Lviv.

An evening with M. Prodanović was held at the "E" Bookstore in the centre of Kiev before a large audience which included representatives from Ukrainian universities and cultural institutions, translators and students of Slavonic studies. After the launch of the book "Ultramarine", which was translated to Ukrainian, the audience had the opportunity to speak with the author and to get to know his artistic works and Serbian literature.

Ukrainian Internet media reported that literary evenings were held in Lviv and Kiev, which are deemed important in the promotion of Serbian literary works and culture in Ukraine.
