

On 3 May 2016, the Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Seoul participated in the 28th charity bazaar, held within the Korean National Diplomatic Academy, under the auspices of the Spouses' Association and the Chief of Protocol of the Korean Foreign Ministry.

The bazaar is traditionally organized with the aim to raise funds for the most impoverished segments of society, cognitively impaired children, North Korea refugees, or the victims of natural disasters, while this year the emphasis was on providing aid for the Ecuador earthquake victims. The Serbian Embassy's stand sold home-made specialties, prepared by the spouses of Ambassador Z. Kazazovic and Counsellor A. Djordjevic, and all the proceeds were donated to charities.
