

— The Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Washington, D.C. — cordially invites you to a concert of

Bilja Krstić and the Bistrik Orchestra

*Exciting fusion of traditional Balkan ethno music,
a cappella songs and ethno grooves with elements of improvisation and modern music approach.*

Bistrik Orchestra:

Dragomir Miki Stanojević – piano
Nenad Josifović – violin, guitar
Nenad Božić – guitar, tambura Slobodan Božanić – bass guitar
Maja Klisinski – percussion, back vocal

Tuesday, December 13, 2016 at 6 p.m.

Millennium stage

The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts
2700 F Street, NW Washington, DC 20566

Free entrance

At the Kennedy Center Millennium stage, Bilja Krstic and the Bistrik Orchestra performed in concert co-organized by the Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Washington, D.C. and the Kennedy Center.

Live streaming of the concert was also available on the website of the Kennedy Center. It was the ensemble's final performance in the year marking their 15th anniversary and 40th anniversary of the singer Biljana Krstic's music career. The concert was exceptionally well attended, and the Voice of America is preparing a feature on the event to be aired on its news program.