

Cultural programme of the Fund for Social and Democratic Initiatives (FOSDI) "Let me be myself", organized with the support of the Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Italy and funded by the Serbian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, was performed on 1 March at Domus Romana Hotel in Rome.

The event, opened by Ambassador of Serbia Goran Aleksic, also featured a photographic exhibition of Gradac Monastery and a documentary "Aristophanes of Dnopolj" depicting the lives of women trying to rebuild their former lives in Serbian villages in Croatia following the wars of the 1990s when they became refugees.

Sejana Klipac performing at the piano during the presentation of the Serbian Cultural Programme, Rome, 06 March 2018. Photo: [unreadable]