

Sinisa Pavic, Serbian Consul General in Thessaloniki and senior ranking member of the consular corps took an opportunity to invite his colleagues to an event held at "Noesis" Thessaloniki Science Centre and Technology Museum where they saw the exhibition "Nikola Tesla: the Man of the Future". The event was also attended by the Serbian Ambassador to the Hellenic Republic, Dusan Spasojevic.

In addition to the exhibition, a screening was held of a short documentary about the life and work of Nikola Tesla. In the context of the exhibition, a 4.5 meter Tesla tower was set up in the Museum lobby where the visual effects were accompanied by sound as well – melodies of the Serbian traditional kolo, dance in a circle.

The exhibition will be on display at the Museum until 31 May.
