

The Embassy of the Republic of Serbia in Washington D.C. participated in the Francophone Culture Festival in Washington, D.C. The Festival traditionally takes place in March since 2001. Collector of traditional Serbian folklore objects Biljana Regan presented Serbian national costumes, artefacts and handicrafts in the final ceremony held at the French Embassy's Cultural Centre, on 23 March 2018. Promotional and tourist brochures about Serbia were shown and distributed to the visitors, who were also served rakija (plum brandy), wine and traditional desserts.

Young Serbian entrepreneur Dejan Zivanovic displayed the skills of dough and phyllo preparation, which the visitors had the opportunity to master on-site. The demonstration was followed by specialty tasting.

57. Exhibition of Serbian national costumes and cuisine at the French Embassy's Cultural Centre, Washington, D.C., April 5, 2018.