

"Dan" Television has broadcast an interview with Ambassador Slavenko Terzic, entitled "Europe's Suicide: Why Globalists Need Kosovo."

Ambassador Terzic spoke about the relations between Serbia and Russia throughout history, the centuries-old connection between the two countries and peoples, the influence of Russian culture and art, as well as about contemporary bilateral relations and cooperation. Much of the interview is devoted to the history of the Balkans, geo-political relations in the world, the situation in Kosovo and Metohija and the challenges facing the world of today in the globalization process.