

Slavic Literature Day observed

Thursday, 24 May 2018.

On the occasion of 24 May, Slavic Literature Day, Dragana Vujic, Director of International Cultural, Educational, Scientific, Technological and Sports Cooperation Department in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia, attended the ceremony paying tribute to brothers Cyril and Methodius and their life's work.

On this occasion, on behalf of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Dragana Vujic laid a wreath at the monument to brothers Cyril and Methodius, located in the park near the Vuk Karadzic Monument in Belgrade.

At the monument, wreaths were also laid by representatives of the City of Belgrade and Slavic countries' Embassies, as well as by various associations and citizens.