

First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Ivica Dacic met today in London with Tom Tugendhat, Chairman of the Commons Foreign Affairs Select Committee.

During the meeting today, a common interest was expressed to improve bilateral relations and to communicate at the highest level as often as possible.

Chairman of the Commons Foreign Affairs Committee of the British Parliament Tom Tugendhat accepted the invitation of Minister Dacic to visit Belgrade. He emphasized that he believed that the intensification of economic and political cooperation is the best way to create strong ties between Serbia and the United Kingdom, which also had their own historical background.
