

First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Ivica Dacic met at the United Nations with the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, Mr. Jorge Arreaza.

During this friendly meeting, Ministers Dacic and Arreaza exchanged views on the current domestic and international developments.

The Venezuelan Foreign Minister explained the latest situation in Venezuela and the efforts to find a solution to the political crisis in his country through dialogue.

{youtube}W6gZAepwLq4{/youtube}

Minister Dacic emphasized that the support to a peaceful resolution of the internal situation in Venezuela was in the interest of Serbia as well. He pointed out that the very good relations between Serbia and Venezuela had been duly reflected at the international level.

The Foreign Ministers expressed their readiness to continue to work towards further promotion of relations between the two countries, especially in the field of economy. Both Ministers agreed to continue to meet on a regular basis in the future.