

Dacic meets Reeker and Palmer at A5 meeting

Thursday, 26 September 2019.

First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs Ivica Dacic attended today in New York an informal working lunch on the sidelines of the 74th session of the UN General Assembly, hosted for Foreign Ministers of members and observers of the U.S.-Adriatic Charter.

The event was also attended by Assistant Secretary of the Department of State's Bureau of European and Eurasian Affairs Philip Reeker and Deputy Assistant Secretary of State and Special Representative for the Western Balkans Matthew Palmer, both of whom the Serbian Foreign Minister had already met prior to this meeting.

{youtube}CFwEI_RBNUY{/youtube}

At today's A5 meeting, the members and observers, one of which is Serbia, discussed the situation in the region and the current developments in the North Atlantic Alliance. The meeting of the U.S. – Adriatic Charter was organized by Albania as the current Chairman.

The meeting was also attended by Minister of Foreign Affairs of Montenegro Srdjan Darmanovic, Minister of Foreign Affairs of North Macedonia Nikola Dimitrov, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Croatia Gordan Grlic-Radman as well as representatives of other delegations, members of A5.