

First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia Ivica Dacic said that the Ministry, in coordination with offices of the President of the Republic and the Prime Minister, was working to arrange assistance to Serbian citizens who were stranded at airports worldwide amid coronavirus pandemic.

In a statement for Tanjug news agency, Minister Dacic explained that the Emergency Task Force set up by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs was working with offices of the President and the Prime Minister to provide assistance to Serbian citizens unable to leave various airports due to international traffic bans.

Serbian citizens have found themselves stranded at airports all over Europe also due to changes made in air traffic as a result of the measures to suppress coronavirus introduced by many countries.
