

Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia Nikola Selakovic wished this evening a fast and full recovery to Czech Foreign Minister Tomáš Petříček who announced that he had tested positive for coronavirus.

"Dear colleague, I am certain that you will quickly defeat this dangerous virus. I extend to you my sincerest wishes for a full and fast recovery", reads the message from Minister Selakovic shared on the official Twitter account of the Serbian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Tomáš Petříček informed earlier today that he had tested positive for coronavirus.

According to Reuters, Petříček, the fourth Czech Government minister to contract the coronavirus, said that he felt tired but had no severe symptoms.

He cancelled planned meetings except for those online.
