

“The fact that the Croatian government annulled its unilateral and unlawful decision to blockade its borders with Serbia is a great success for the policy of the Serbian Government headed by Prime Minister Aleksandar Vucic and a major defeat of the irresponsible policy conducted by the Croatian Government and its Prime Minister Zoran Milanovic.

Such an outcome can only hearten the citizens and businessmen in the region, as the principle of free movement of people, goods and capital is vital for economic development and stability.

The citizens of Serbia can be glad that Serbia has a Prime Minister and a Government capable and brave enough to make the best possible decisions for Serbia and in so doing get the support of the EU and our other partners. This was in evidence for the first time after many years and it proves best that Serbia is on the right and good track”, says Minister Dacic in his statement.
