

First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia Ivica Dacic participated today in the 34th session of the International Organization of La Francophonie Ministerial Conference, taking place in Paris on 25-26 November.

On the fringes of the meeting, the Serbian Foreign Minister had talks with numerous Ministers of Foreign Affairs of both Member States and Observers of the Permanent Council of La Francophonie.

In the talks with his collocutors, Minister Dacic discussed topics of mutual interest, with particular emphasis on the most important foreign policy priorities of the Republic of Serbia, respect of international law and the principle of territorial integrity. In all his meetings, the Minister put stress on the necessity to improve economic cooperation between the Republic of Serbia and the countries with whose representatives Minister Dacic held talks.
